County Seeks Public Input as it Incorporates Sustainable Policies in “Orange is the New Green” Zoning Code Update

Santa Ana, Calif. – The County of Orange has embarked on a comprehensive update to its Zoning Code to incorporate sustainable policies and best management practices. The Zoning Code update project, known as “Orange is the New Green,” aims to achieve a new standard of sustainability and flexibility to accommodate future technological advances.

OC Public Works, through its OC Development Services service area, is seeking input from residents, business owners, community groups, advocates and other stakeholders on the County’s proposed updates to the Zoning Code during the two-month public review and comment period, which concludes June 26, 2018. OC Development Services will host a series of Planning Commission and Advisory Board Community Workshops where staff will provide a brief presentation and an opportunity for attendees to ask questions:
